What the Governor Recommends.

Gov. Hoch's Message to the legislature is strictly in line with the reforms pledged by the Republican party. He recommends the following

The curtailing of useless legislative employees and needless waste of peoples money.

An examination of the public records and an appropriation of $10,000 ter pay for same.

A primary election law. This is one of the reforms the Governor thinks should not be overlooked. He regards the primary as the beginning of government, and states that a stream can pever be purer than the fountain from which it is supplied, hence the primaries should be as sacredly guarded as the general elections.

A new congressional apportionment.

A state depository, or system of depositories that the state may have the interests from the use of its funds.

A good roads movement. State institutions should be placed on a civil service basis. That the state purchase a printing plant and employ a state printer at a reasonable salary. An allowance for traveling public libraries. That attention be paid to the price of school lands and that their value be regulated by that of corresponding private property.

That a juvenile court be created. That the tax laws be revised. That a state oil refinery be estab-

That the allowance for educational institutions be generous.

And many other measures of imporance but not of such a general na-

Much interest was manifested and from the different papers and discussions, we learned that there tre many good remedies which physiclaus will use if requested justead of sicohol, which will creare or awaken an appetite for intoxicants that will e difficult to overcome. We were ad vised to avoid the use of patent medone as in the most of it we find alco not to be the predominant ingrediant a paper worthy of note was read by Miss Maud Reeder in which she made of plain from a sientific standpoint, hat alcohol as a medicine was not on y unnecessary but dangerous. special appeal was made to mothers to protect their children from the ravages of this insidious foe which lurks in much medicine that may be brought into the home through prescription or otherwise. Another thought was that there should be a law compeliing the prescriber of medicine to place on the bottle containing the same the names of the different parts from which it is compounded.

Two New States in Prospect.

The next important business on the senate's calendar after the Philippine improvement measure was the bil providing for the admission of two new states into the Union. Few perple, either in Congress or outside of it, seem to understand how much more important the admission of a new state to the Union is than almost any other possible business that can come efore Congress. Tariffs can be made and unmade, and most other matters of legislation are subject to amendment or repeal from time to time. But hasty or ill-advised action in admitting a state to the Union is irrevocable. At this very moment the whole moral sense of the community is arroused by questions arrising out of the mistake that was made in ad mitting Utah at a time when it would nave been far better to keep Utah in the territorial condition In the Presidential election, in November, Nevada cast a total of 11,826 votes. The admission of Nevada to the Union was a fearful mistake, for which the Constitution offers no remedy. The present bill provides for the restoration of the permanent lines of the Indian Territory that had been temporarily broken up by the granting of a portion of the territory under the time of the year. territorial form of government to a name of Oklahoma. To the area thus restored the name of Oklahoma is to
